Cadogan Song School, Australia

The Cadogan Song School is music for the eyes

LOCATION: Perth, WA, Australia

YEAR: 2017

ARCHITECT: Palassis Architects

LIGHTING DESIGNER: Inlite WA

BUILDER: PACT Construction

COMMISSIONED BY: Anglican Diocese Perth

The Song School in Perth, Australia is a modern, two-story building made of concrete and glass. The Cathedral of Saint George, located next door, uses the school's music classes to train the church's Anglican choir.

The lighting system was designed by Palassis Architects, and supplied in collaboration with Inlite, who chose Platek as their lighting partner.

Mini Corniche is the luminaire used to illuminate the hollow steeple. Its minimal design fits perfectly with the religious context. The sinuous but rigorous lines of the light fittings generate a beam of light aimed at enhancing the architecture of the Song School, located in the urban landscape of the city of Perth.
