Weingut Franz Keller Cellars

The nature-proof lighting functionality

LOCATION: Oberbergen, Germany

YEAR: 2018

COMMISSIONED BY: Weingut Franz Keller Cellars

The Weingut Franz Keller cellars are an exclusive location near Baden, Germany. The modern structure consisting of cellars and vineyards surrounded by the wonderful landscape of the Black Forest.

To make the complex perfectly in harmony with the surrounding environment, natural and sustainable materials such as glass, wood and stone have been used. Instead, as far as lighting is concerned, Platek products have proven to be particularly suitable as they are able to combine low energy consumption with an appealing aesthetic, which does not overpower nature.

Menhir products, for example, thanks to the proposed variety of poles in three dimensions, guarantee a functional light able to make access routes safe for guests. Menhir essential but at the same time elegant and solid shape guarantees the optimal integration of the product with the landscape, thanks also to the completely hidden ground installation. Also important are the Medium floor recesses luminaires which light the large flowerbeds of access and common areas.

For the large terraces and balconies from which you can admire the hills and vineyards, the Oblò recessed luminaires were used: the circular shape and the simple design allow a continuity between internal and external environments. On the other hand, the high quality of the products guarantees durability over time. The final result is a relaxing welcoming and comfortable atmosphere which enhances the size of the trees at different heights surrounding the structure.
